General Admission Conditions

You must meet these general admission conditions to enter Goodwill's services:

1. At least 16 years of age at the time of entry.
2. Able to care for your personal needs or have help in caring for your needs.
3. Behavior is under control and you are not a danger to yourself or others.
4. You choose to work toward the agreed upon goals in your individual plan.
5. Fee sponsorship at the time of admission.
6. Records that state your disability and/or disadvantaging conditions should be given to us by your referral source.
7. Must have your own way to get to your meetings and/or job, by private means or by public transportation.
8. Your disabling condition must be stable enough so that you can work. A doctor's release to work may be needed.
9. Able to benefit from using Goodwill services.
10. Must be able to take part in your program without breaking the law, such as continuing to drive without a license or under the influence of any substance while meeting with Goodwill staff or while participation in Goodwill activities.

Client Rights

1. As a Goodwill client you will be treated with dignity and respect, afforded freedom from abuse, financial or other exploitation, retaliation, humiliation or neglect. All services will be used to meet your specific needs. Goodwill does not allow you to be treated in a way that will physically or emotionally hurt you.
2. Services will be given to you no matter your age, race, color, religion, creed, sex, marital status, sexual orientation, disability, national origin, ethnic background, veteran status, or any other class protected by law.

3. All your program information will be kept in a confidential file. You (or your guardian) have the right to look at information created by Goodwill in your file during normal business hours. Goodwill respects your privacy; information (including personal health information) will not be given to anyone who is not a part of your program unless you (or your legal guardian, if applicable) write that it is okay. Please note: Other organizations or individuals possessing legal authority for access to particular file information through written client approval or court ordered subpoena may also access information.
4. We want you to tell us what you think about the services offered by Goodwill. You can talk to your Employment Services staff person, anyone at Goodwill or put a note in the suggestion box in the front lobby. From time to time we will ask you to fill out surveys to let us know how we are doing.
5. You may ask for help from an outside person (family member, friend, other agency personnel, Indiana Protection & Advocacy Services, legal representation, etc.) at any time during your services. Your Employment Services staff person will help you find an advocate if you want one. There may also be times when your Employment Services staff person suggests an advocate to help you with issues outside of Goodwill services and with investigations and resolutions of alleged infringement of your personal or legal rights.
6. It is your choice to be in our services, and you have the right to say no to our services. You may ask for help in finding other programs if you feel that would be best for you. You can also be involved in other programs while working with Goodwill.
7. If you are ever unhappy with your services or a staff member at Goodwill or if you feel your rights have been violated, you should talk to any staff person right away. How to file a complaint is explained in detail in the next section. If you need assistance to do this, ask any Employment Services staff person.

Complaints

If you ever have a problem with your services at Goodwill, you should tell any staff person right away. That staff person may refer you to the Chief Mission Officer & VP of Workforce Development to address your concerns or help you to write a formal complaint. The complaint should be filed within seventy-two (72) hours of the event in order to ensure prompt attention. The Employment Services staff person will try to solve the problem and will give you a written answer within three (3) working days. If you are not happy with the solution, you can talk to the Chief Mission Officer & VP of Workforce Development who must write a response within three (3) working days. If you are still unhappy, you may talk to the Goodwill President within five (5) days, who will give a final decision in writing within five (5) days.

If you are unhappy with the decision of the Goodwill President, contact your referring counselor.

You may bring an advocate or request help in getting an advocate at any time.

As a client you have a right:

- To file a formal complaint
- To confidentiality regarding the complaint
- To be provided assistance during the process
- To receive information in a manner that is understandable

Filing a complaint will not be held against you or prevent you from receiving services.

General Policies

1. The Goodwill offices are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
2. Goodwill offices are closed:

New Years Day	Thanksgiving Day
Memorial Day	Friday after Thanksgiving
Fourth of July	Last working day before Christmas
Labor Day	Christmas Day
3. Smoking is not allowed inside any Goodwill facility.
4. Having a weapon on Goodwill property is not allowed and will result with you being immediately exited from services, except for licensed guns locked in a vehicle out of sight.
5. Having, using or selling or under the influence of alcohol or drugs in the workplace is not allowed and may result with you being immediately exited from services.
6. Goodwill will not dispense any medication to you.
7. Goodwill will not ask for any money, be your payee or handle any money for you.
8. Employment Services staff are not allowed to accept gifts from you.

9. Goodwill staff cannot accept friend requests from clients. This includes social networking sites such as Facebook, Twitter and other related sites. Becoming friends on these sites can compromise confidentiality and blur the boundaries of our working relationship.
10. WAITING LISTS: Should the need for a waiting list develop, the procedure for entry on the list and acceptance into services will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Service Policies

1. You will have an Employment Services staff person assigned to you while in services at Goodwill. Your staff person will help you meet your goals and arrange the services that you need.
2. There are no costs to you for using our services. Your fees are paid by your referring agency. If you lose fee sponsorship after starting your program, we will try to keep you in services without interruption. This will depend on individual need and current budget limits.
3. You will have a written individual plan while you are at Goodwill. This plan will be based on your input and in an accessible format of your choice. You may have a family member, or any other person you want, involved in helping you with your plan.
4. Your Employment Services staff person will work with you to plan your service goals for success. Your plan, and the progress on your goals, will be discussed with you on a regular basis. The plan may be changed at any time if all parties are in agreement.
5. You may be placed in an interrupt status, during which all direct Goodwill services to you will stop. You, your referring counselor, or your Employment Service staff person can ask for you to be put on interrupt status. You can be placed on interrupt status for: not participating in services, not staying in contact with Goodwill, or a medical or mental condition which keeps you from participating. Your interrupt status is meant to last for a short time.
6. If you are not working on your program goals or participating in services or you are unable to participate due to health reasons you may be exited from services. If your situation changes and you feel you could benefit from a Goodwill program you may reapply and be considered for re-entry into services.

7. All critical incidents (violent, aggressive or other unsafe behaviors, alleged cases of abuse or neglect, weapons, incidents of seclusion or restraint, sexual assault, elopement or wandering, or other sentinel events) will be reported to the Vice President of Mission and Program Services. The incident will be looked into within forty-eight (48) hours. In some cases the proper authorities may be notified immediately.

Accessibility Policy

It is the policy of Goodwill Industries to have our workplace free of barriers to employment and to provide reasonable accommodations and supports to promote equal opportunity for participation by persons with disabilities. The purpose of this policy is to identify and remove architectural, attitudinal, transportation, employment, communication, financial and environmental barriers. Please tell your Employment Services Staff person if you need any accommodations.

Expectations

While a client of Goodwill you are expected to:

- A. Attend all scheduled meetings on time. You are more likely to reach your goals if you show up for your meetings.
